

Terms of Use — Paducah Creative & Culture Council Bulletin Board

Welcome to the Paducah Creative & Culture Council's community bulletin board. This board is a space for sharing arts and culture events, opportunities, and resources with the public. By submitting content, you agree to the following terms.

What you can post Content related to arts and culture in Paducah, including events, exhibitions, performances, classes, calls for artists, grants, and cultural programming.

What we don't allow

- Content unrelated to arts and culture
- Unlawful content, including threats, defamation, or infringement of others' copyrights or trademarks
- Commercial advertising unrelated to an arts/culture event
- Discriminatory or harassing content directed at individuals or groups
- Sexually explicit material
- Content that endangers public safety
- False, misleading, or fraudulent claims, including impersonation of the Council or others
- Political campaign material supporting or opposing a candidate or ballot measure

- Malicious links or files

Review process Submissions are reviewed for compliance with these terms before posting. We aim to review new submissions within [5 business days]. We do not decline submissions because we disagree with the opinion expressed — only for the reasons listed above.

Removal Approved content may later be removed if it turns out to violate these terms, becomes outdated, or if the submitter asks us to take it down.

No endorsement Posting on this board does not mean the Paducah Creative & Cultural Council or the City of Paducah endorses the organization, individual, or event described.

Questions or appeals If your submission is declined and you'd like it reconsidered paducaharts@paducahky.gov
